Rosa

Lounge Collection

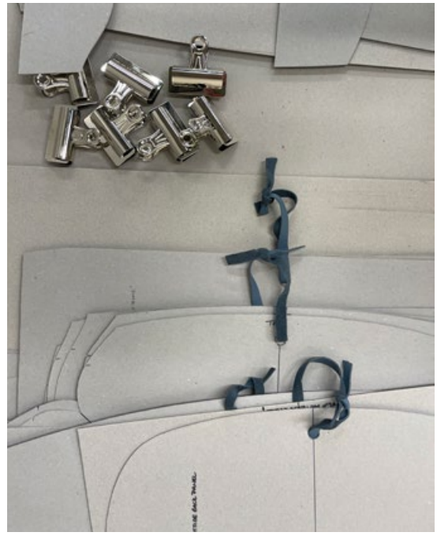

Rosa's appeal is its simple flowing tubular frame. Both the chair and sofa in the collection have been precisely engineered with no visible fixings, and its uninterrupted lines lend the seating a unified look that speaks of refined simplicity and style.

Inspired

Heritage

The initial brief was to create seating that exudes the easy-going versatility of outdoor furniture, and the idea of bringing the outdoors in. Rosa's flowing lines and proportions were refined through an iterative prototyping process resulting in slim, sophisticated forms alongside maximum comfort and durability.

Outdoor seating has a relaxed, flexible vibe and we wanted Rosa to exude that. We were also inspired by the minimalism of mid century classic tubular chair designs. Paring back our prototypes we pushed for that functional elegance with a soft, playful feel in combination with uncompromised comfort levels.

Details

Matter

The graphic detail of the cantilever frame holds Rosa's back cushion - appearing to float effortlessly above the webbed and sprung seat section. Honed by Boss Design's iterative design process, the distinct curves and proportions of the seating project a sense of lightness into the space around it.

Design

Language

The playful elegance of the Rosa Lounge Collection is highlighted in the fact that it has no visible fixings. With a total absence of fixings, the back support appears to float lightly above the seat board. The tubular cantilever frame can be painted any colour while the slimline cushion design means it can be upholstered in a wide array of fabrics. Rosa creates a perfect place to sit, meet, relax and contemplate the world.

Sustainably

Softer

The visual appeal is validated by the seating experience Rosa has to offer. Our layered polyurethane cushion technology makes the chair and sofa and comfortable, while maintaining its shape for long-lasting, durable seating.

Rosa has been designed for simple assembly and disassembly. The seating can be taken apart easily making it possible to respray the frame and reupholster the cushions, extending Rosa's life cycle. Equally, we manufacture Rosa furniture so that its materials are easy to separate for reuse or recycling.
